

Better health through laboratory medicine

Better Patient Care Through Personalized Medicine - 2013 AACC Chicago Section Fall Meeting and Awards Luncheon

Date: Saturday October 12, 2013

Time: 0830 -1300

Location: ACL Laboratories |5400 Pearl St. Rosemont, IL 60018

Program:

- 0830 - 0930 Registration and Continental Breakfast
- 0930 - 1030 Clinical Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) for Targeted Cancer Therapeutics. Tina Lockwood PhD, DABCC. Assistant Professor of Pathology and Assistant Director of Molecular Diagnostic Laboratory. Washington University in St. Louis School of Medicine.
- 1045 - 1145 Is CYP 2C19 Genotyping Sufficient for Predicting Clopidogrel Efficacy? KT Jerry Yeo PhD, DABCC, FACB. Professor of Pathology, Director of Clinical Chemistry, and Director of Clinical Pharmacogenomics. University of Chicago Medicine.
- 1200 -1300 Lunch and Presentation of Awards

This program qualifies for 2 hrs of ACCENT continuing education credit.

A small registration fee ($20) to offset the cost of the program is payable by cash or check the day of the event.

Complimentary Parking Available

Please RSVP for the event to Dr. T. Scott Isbell at sisbell@novabio.com

Event sponsored in part by
Molecular Pathology

