

Sponsored Webinar San Diego Section, AACC
FREE to members and their guests

Tuesday,
April 17

The New CLIA Competency Assessment for Laboratory Personnel

Location: UCSD Center for Advanced Laboratory Medicine
UC San Diego, 10300 Campus Point Drive, San Diego, CA 92121.

Conference Room C, on the SE side of the building; first parking lot on the right as you enter the complex.

Judy Yost, MA, MT (ASCP)
Director, Division of Laboratories, CMS, Baltimore, MD

Program Information

This spring, CMS is rolling out its new CLIA competency assessment tool for reducing laboratory errors. This long-awaited document spells out what clinical laboratories must do to ensure that individuals performing testing--from the laboratory director to the bench level professional--are complying with the CLIA requirements. The plan details who is assessed, who conducts the reviews, and how frequently the assessment is performed. The competency review applies to all laboratories performing moderate to high complexity testing. Join us for this 60-minute, information-packed webinar and hear directly from CMS the strategies your lab can use to implement this plan.