

Attention AACC Members!

We have been looking for ways to provide members with even more opportunities to share their work, network the leaders in the field, and learn about new and emerging topics in clinical chemistry. This month we will be doing a trial program to allow members to present their work in a poster session format.

For the November 19th meeting, we are asking members to bring posters that were presented at either the national AACC meeting in Houston or that were presented within the last 2-years at another scientific conference. If you would be interested in submitting a poster please email an abstract to socalAACC@gmail.com. Your abstract will be reviewed and you receive email confirmation if you are accepted.

Since this is a trial program, we will only be able to accommodate up to 14 posters maximum.
